Debt is a Big Deal!

Debt must be respected. If you don't take it seriously, it could derail your finances for a very long period of time.

If handled wisely, debt can help you reach financial milestones and provide for your family and generations to come.

It all starts with understanding the difference between good debt and bad debt.

Good debt is debt that you can afford and that can help you build wealth.

Think of it like this—often, you need to spend money to make money. But what if you don't have mountains of cash to throw at every opportunity that comes your way?

That's where good debt can help. It can give you the cash you need to seize opportunities like...

- Starting a business
- Buying a home
- Getting an education

Those can help you boost your income, purchase an appreciating asset, or increase your earning potential. As long as you've done your homework and can afford your payments, good debt can help you leverage those opportunities with no regrets.

Bad debt is the exact opposite—it's borrowing money to buy assets that lose value. That includes...

- Cars
- Video games
- Clothes
- Electronics
- PayDay Loans
- Personal Loans

Debt can simply make these items more expensive than they already are. What do you get in return? Nothing only bills, bills, and more bills!

So, if you find yourself borrowing money to buy things, stop and ask yourself:

Is this an investment?

Do I think the value of this purchase will increase in value or am I simply spending because it feels good?

Here's the takeaway—Debt is a powerful tool that can be good or bad.

When used wisely, it can help you build businesses, buy homes, and increase your earning potential. Handle it carelessly, and you can cause serious harm to your financial stability.

Make sure to do your homework, evaluate your opportunities, and meet with a licensed and qualified financial professional to see what good debt would look like for you.
